

Yodelady

A laughter-loving, song-belting, old-time stringband from Olympia, Washington, USA.

Yodelady is an old-timey and country trio from Olympia, WA. They love playing high energy tunes and singing songs in multiple-part harmony. They enjoy sharing their love of traditional music in a variety of venues and settings including festivals, house concerts, square dances, private parties, pubs, bars and restaurants. Their instrumentation centers around the fiddle, banjo, and guitar with upright bass and ukulele often in the mix. Members are Monica Peabody (banjo/vocals), Emily Teachout (fiddle/guitar/vocals), and Jennifer Witherspoon (guitar/bass/vocals).

Their debut album, "Sing row away, row" presents a mix of sweet waltzes, old ballads, rousing fiddle tunes and old country songs. Yodelady is available for booking at your event, festival, or venue.
